I. INSURING EXHIBITS

In what situations does expo insurance apply? What damages does the insurance policy cover What items are insured? What items are not insured? When is a 'deductible' sum payable? When and to whom must the damage be reported? When should a report be submitted to the police? How well are you insured?	On the way to, during, and on the return journey from the specified Austrian Exhibition Experts-organised trade fair, anywhere in Europe. In transit: 'Full coverage' according to A TB 2001 During the trade fair: Fire (fire, lightning strike, explosion), theft, burglary and damage caused by mains water leakage, breakage, bending, dents, damage, transportation accidents and natural disasters in accordance with the underlying conditions of the contract. Exhibits, expo booths fixtures and fittings, your devices. Valuables such as furs, precious metals, jewelry, watches, valuables, stamps, antiques, genuine carpets and works of art, as well as food and plants. Please note, exhibits must be kept under supervision during official visiting times, and out of the way of unauthorised individuals in a suitable manner outside visiting hours. Smaller items of value (such as laptops, digital cameras, projectors etc.) must be stored in lockable cabinets or containers. If damage to an insured item occurs while it is being assembled, mounted, dismantled or removed; if damage occurs while the item is being started, is in use, or is part of a demonstration; if there is damage to insured items during packing and unpacking at the exhibition venue at the beginning and end of the fair. A deduction of € 250 per incidence of damage will only be charged in cases of theft, robbery, breakage, bending, denting or deformation. All cases of damage must be reported to Marsh Austria GmbH immediately. In cases of theft or fire, immediately after discovering the damage. The agreed status is for a 'first risk' payment. In such cases, damages will be compensated up to the amount of the insurance sum. No claims of underinsurance can be entertained. The insurance sum selected should reflect the actual value required to cover damage.
